A Research Diagnosis

- Clinical definitions used in this document aim to protect both mother and fetus from adverse outcome.
- More stringent criteria must be used for selecting cases for research in preeclampsia; cases should be documented to be normotensive before pregnancy or 12 weeks after pregnancy.

Other Research Needs

- Studies to establish appropriate diagnostic criteria for preeclampsia
- Clinical trials regarding prevention and management of hypertensive complications
- Attempts to identify subsets of women with the preeclamptic syndrome
